Cooke, Mr. and Mrs. A. S. Wilcox, Mrs. George N. Wilcox, Mr. Gaylord Wilcox, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Rice, and Mr. and Mrs. Hans Isenberg.

They will also be guests of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Dillingham, the former a sister of Mrs. Baldwin Wood, and of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Dillingham. The Dillingham family is one of the oldest on the islands, the founder of the family fortune having been one of the early missionaries.

Society in Honolulu has always been distinctly divided into two sets, one allied with what is called the "Missionary set," and the other the "Royal family," and the other the "Missionary set," consisting of the progeny of the early Scotch missionaries who went to the islands and assisted in civilizing it early in the last century.

This has always given the charm of romance to island society. It is perhaps the only place in the world where the "Smart set" is synonymous with the "Missionary set," the latter including many of the great families whose estates represent the wealth of the islands.

The Irwin home is the modern royal palace of the islands, exceeding in grandeur the home of the defunct reigning house of the late king. It is built on the beach, and it is a little settlement in itself, with bathhouses, a fleet of pleasure craft, boat-houses, all sorts of automobiles, horses and so on.

They have in recent years built the new palace, this taking the place of a very handsome home erected there. It was here that Mrs. Templeton Crocker spent her girlhood years, and she is quite the idol of society there, her sweet amiability and personal charm enabling her to count her friends by the hundred.

The Irwins own thousands of acres of plantations here, Mr. Irwin having been one of the pioneer sugar kings whose fortune was contemporaneous with that of the Spreckels wealth.

Taking moving pictures of society's pageants is the latest fad, and Miss Jennie Crocker's plan to have a film made of her wedding, this to be put away in the family vault along with the family jewels, both to become the possession of future brides, is a fad which English royalty first introduced into society abroad.

Miss Thelma Parker has rented the beautiful residence of W. A. Kinney at Manoa Valley, a suburb of Honolulu, and after her marriage to Henry Smart, the 26th of July, the young couple will make their home there, coming to San Francisco in the winter for a visit to Mr. and Mrs. Fred Knight at their new home on Broadway. Miss Parker is busy arranging her trousseau, and preparing for the elaborate wedding, which will take place at Waimea, her ranch on the island of Hawaii. There will be a typical Hawaiian celebration and several hundred guests will be present, many going from Honolulu, which is a two days' journey, and remaining at the ranch for several days. The village people will be feasted and the young bride will have a brilliant start on her married career. Miss Harriet Bradford, who was a school friend of Miss Parker in this city, will sail Wednesday for the islands, and will be the bride's only attendant.—S. F. Chronicle, July 7.

Hawaii Students Camping.
 A congenial party of Hawaiian students attending Eastern colleges composed of Harry Steiner, Atherton Gilman, Adolph Schnack, Pete Young, Cyril Damon and Allan Wilcox, are spending their summer vacation at Aloha Camp, situated on Lake Asgnam, near Ashland, New Hampshire.

Mrs. Schaefer Entertained.
 SAN FRANCISCO, July 11.—Mrs. Gus Schaefer, who has been visiting here from Honolulu, is one of the younger matrons who has been feted at a succession of informal affairs, during her stay of the last few weeks. She is a sister of Mrs. J. Charles Green, and has been entertained not only by her relatives but by the members of the younger set in town. She is a charming bride, and after a brief stay here will return to her home in Honolulu.—San Francisco Call.

Reception for Mr. and Mrs. Frank L. Hoogs.

Mrs. William H. Hoogs is giving a reception and dance this evening for Mr. and Mrs. Frank L. Hoogs (Miss Ethel McKeezie), who have just returned from their honeymoon. The decorations are to be in pink, and branches of the pink flowering tree will be arranged throughout the rooms. The programs are of a delicate shade of pink and the pencils are attached to them with ribbons that harmonize with the color scheme. The invited guests are:

Miss Fanny Hoogs, Miss Alice Hoogs, Miss Juliette Atherton, Miss Marjorie Gilman, Miss Cordelia Gilman, Miss Laura Atherton, Miss Edna Smith, Miss Lela Titus, Miss Muriel Howatt, Miss Dora Atwater, Miss Juliette Atwater, Mrs. Ernest Clark, Miss Ruth Anderson, Miss Ruth Richards, Miss Alice Cooke, Miss Sara Lucas, Miss Esther White, Mrs. Sherwood Lowrey, Miss Tiny White, Miss Vivien Buckland, Miss Hazel Buckland, Miss Eva McCarriston, Miss Gertrude McCarriston, Miss Theresa McCarriston, Miss Little Miss Marguerite Wadman, Miss Martha McChesney, Miss Myrtle Schumann, Miss Doris Hutchins, Mrs. Frederick Lowrey, Miss Blanche Soper, Miss Ruth Soper, Miss Edna Curtis, Miss Mary von Holt, Miss Allen McCarthy, Miss Louise McCarthy, Miss Pearl McCarthy, Miss Florence Winter, Miss Rose Herbert, Miss Mary Lucas, Mrs. Jack Young, Miss Benner, Miss Florence Cassidy, Miss Hazel Gear, Miss Ambrose, Miss Marguerite McLennan, Miss Margaret Waterhouse, Mr. Will Hoogs Jr., Mr. Cyril Hoogs, Mr. Jack Guard, Mr. Dave Larsen, Mr. Jim Morgan, Mr. Will Morgan, Mr. Percy Dey, Mr. Bert Clark, Mr. Ernest Clark, Mr. Fred Bailey, Mr. John Ashley, Mr. George Fuller, Mr. Percy Nottlage, Mr. Harold Gear, Mr. Alexander Anderson, Mr. Arthur Richards, Mr. Ted Cooke, Mr. Harry Lucas, Mr. William Ouder, Mr. Oscar McCarriston, Mr. Lothrop Withington, Mr. Clarence White, Mr. Gavlan Bush, Mr. Shirley Bush, Mr. Charles McWayne, Mr. Frederick Lowrey, Mr. Marston Campbell Jr., Mr. Herman von Holt, Mr. Garson, Mr. Woodruff, Mr. Jack Young, Mr. Walter Love, Mr. Jennie McCandless, Mr. Will Carden, Mr. Ed Carden, Mr. Jack Carden, Mr. Roy Douglas, Mr. Dickson Nott, Mr. Charles Davis, Mr. Frederick Withman, Mr. Jack Galt, Mr. Allan Lowrey, Mr. George Cassidy, Mr. Sherwood Lowrey, Mr. Arthur Gilman and Mr. Vincent Genova.

Golf at the Country Club.
 On the first day of the golf tournament last Wednesday at the Oahu Country Club, the best scores were made by Miss Wilhelmina Tenney, Miss Alice Cooke and Miss Hewling. Another tournament will be held on Wednesday and it is hoped that a large number of the ladies of the Country Club will turn out to make scores. Some of those who played last Wednesday were Mrs. Charles Montague Cooke, Miss Wilhelmina Tenney, Miss Alice Cooke, Miss Muriel Howatt, Miss McNear, Mrs. Sutton, Miss Hewling, Mrs. Tom Guild and Miss Kennedy.

Miss Kennedy's Dancing Party.
 On Tuesday evening, Miss Jessie Kennedy was hostess at a delightful dinner dance at her home on Victoria street. The decorations were in yellow, coral and maiden hair fern and each of the guests was presented with an illa and maille lei. The cards that marked the place of each guest were attached to little fans. Some among those present were Miss Ernestine McNear, Miss Helen North, Miss Muriel Howatt, Miss Lady Macfarlane, Miss Violet Steever, Miss Eloise Wichman, Miss Elise Miles, Miss Wilhelmina Tenney, Miss Mary von Holt, Miss Lorna Iaukea, Mr. and Mrs. Frederick D. Mrs. Sinclair's Informal Entertainment.

Mrs. A. N. Sinclair entertained on Thursday evening for her sister Mrs. Horner Smith. Among those present were Mrs. Homer Smith, Judge and Mrs. Robinson, Mr. Schoen and Dr. and Mrs. A. N. Sinclair.

Mrs. Gibson Entertained.
 On Monday afternoon Mrs. Frank Leighton Gibson was the guest of honor at a tea given by Mrs. Kelley Brown at her home on Young street. The guests included Mrs. Frank Leighton Gibson, Mrs. Edward Marshall, Mrs. Frazier, Mrs. Charles J. Frazier, Mrs. L. J. Warren, Mrs. J. T. Warren, Mrs. Raymond Bown, Mrs. Walter Wall, Miss Dietz and Mrs. David Thum.

The Oahu Country Club is to be the setting for what the members are pleased to prophesy the grandest ball given in Honolulu since the days when kings and queens ruled in the land. And these same members wish to impress upon those who are fortunate enough to be among those present that it will be more than a dance in the strict sense of the term. The occasion is the opening of the new club house which has been erected at a heavy cost. The Country Club affords a place where members may have recreation from their labors down town and what the local theaters do not provide for the "tired businessman" the golf links furnish. The function at the Country Club is announced for the 27th of this month. Mr. S. Allen Walker and Mr. W. H. McInerney are a committee having the arrangements in charge.

Miss Bertha Young's Dancing Party.
 One of the most delightful dances enjoyed by the younger set was given at Waikiki last night by Miss Bertha Young in compliment to her nephew, Mr. Alexander Anderson, who is shortly to leave for Cornell. The color scheme for the decorations was the buff and blue of Punahou and yellow, roses and violet combined with tulle were banded and festooned throughout the rooms and on the lawn. Quantities of tiny Japanese lanterns illuminated both the lawn and the grounds. The guests included: Mrs. Alexander Young, Mr. and Mrs. Von Hammer, Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Young, Dr. and Mrs. Anderson, Mr. and Mrs. A. F. Griffiths, Dr. and Mrs. Herbert, Mr. Alexander, who received with Miss Young, Miss Ruth Anderson, Hazel Buckland, Geraldine Berg, Margaret Center, Miss Mary von Holt, Miss Dorothy Wood, Miss Thelma Murphy, Miss Elizabeth Woods, Miss Violet Atherton, Miss Laura Atherton, Miss Juliet Atherton, Miss Gladys Hobson, Miss Sarah Lucas, Miss Rose Herbert, Miss Elizabeth Carter, Miss Phoebe Carter, Miss Doris Hutchins, Miss Martha McChesney, Miss May Biven, Miss Margaret Restarick, Miss Ruth Soper, Miss Eloise Wichman, the Misses McCarriston, Miss Marjorie Chapin, Miss Esther White, Miss Pauline Schaefer, Miss Titus, Miss Edna Smith, Miss Edna Curtis, Miss Zeph Pischel, Miss Muriel Howatt, Miss Jessie Kennedy, Miss Marjorie Gilman, Miss Cordelia Gilman, Miss Beatrice White, Miss Marian Chapin, Miss Mildred Chapin, Miss Lucy Dimond, Miss Ramona Morgan, Miss Mary Lucas, Miss Dora Atwater, Miss Juliet Atwater, Miss Ruth Richards, Miss Daphne Damon, Miss Catherine Ashley, Miss Fanny Hoogs, Miss Alice Hoogs, Miss Helen Spalding, Miss Myrtle Schumann, Miss Johnstone, Miss Marguerite Wadman, Miss Blanche Soper, the Misses Low, Miss Bernice Holstead, Miss Wilhelmina Tenney, the Misses Jones, Miss Doris Taylor, Miss Violet Steever, Miss Carrie McLean, Miss Esther Kopke, Miss Bertha Kopke, Miss Helen McLean, Mr. Bernard Damon, Mr. Geoffrey Podmore, Mr. Fred Schaefer, Mr. Will Paty, Mr. Frederick Wichman, Mr. Albert Gibb, Mr. Edwin Gibb, Mr. Fred Widenan, Mr. Allen Benson, Mr. Cyril Hoogs, Mr. Ricker, Mr. Francis Eames, Mr. William Schumann, Mr. Wrenne Timberlake, Mr. Jack Guard, Mr. Francis Brown, Mr. Ellis, Mr. Atherton Richards, Mr. Harold Kori, Mr. Erling Hedemann, Mr. Carl Schaefer, Mr. Charles McWayne, Mr. David Larson, Mr. Dalton Garston, Mr. Eynold McGrew, Mr. Vincent Genova, Mr. Vernon Tenney and Mr. Sherman Ellis.

Berkeley Society Girl Visiting Here.
 Miss Doris Hutchins, whose picture appears in today's paper, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clinton Hutchins of Berkeley, and formerly of this city. During the time that Honolulu was her home, Miss Hutchins was a student at Punahou, and was exceedingly popular throughout the school as well as with her own classmates. That her popularity has not lessened is evidenced by the many social affairs given in her honor. For the past five years she has been in school in her home State and has just completed her freshman year at the University of California, where she is a member of the Delta Gamma Society. So fond is Miss Hutchins of Honolulu and her friends in Hawaii that she chose this summer vacation trip to a European tour, Mr. and Mrs. Clinton Hutchins and their daughter will leave for the mainland on the seventh of August. Mrs. Hutchins herself has ever been a social favorite in Honolulu, but owing to a slight accident has been for the past few weeks compelled to decline all invitations, greatly to the disappointment of more than one hostess.

Mrs. Foster's House Party.
 Mrs. Walter C. Weedon, and her sister Miss Alla Sloane and Miss Egglestone were the house guests from Thursday to Saturday last week of Mrs. Mary E. Foster at her country home at Kahana. The party motored to this beautiful place on Thursday morning as two of the ladies are strangers here they were quite overcome with the exquisite scenery on the other side of the Pali.

Juvenile Bostonians' Guests.
 During the past few days of their stay in Honolulu the juvenile Bostonians were guests at many social functions, including teas and auto parties. On Sunday one group of the young folks was entertained by Miss Rose Herbert and another by Miss Catherine Ashley. On Tuesday Mr. Alexander Hume Forc entertained the company at tea at the Outrigger Club, and Tuesday night a host of friends they made in Honolulu bade them bon voyage as the Marama pulled away from the dock.
